GALLERIA 10 A.M. ART
FROM 27 JUNE TO 20 JULY 2019
LORENZO FILOMENI "I SOLIDI PLATONICI"

From 27 June to 20 July 2019, the Galleria 10 A.M. ART will open its Special Projects programme with a project by Lorenzo Filomeni titled "I solidi platonici".

With Special Projects, 10 A.M. ART aims at giving young artists the possibility of presenting a project specifically devised for the gallery rooms.

Lorenzo Filomeni opens this new project to the public with "I solidi platonici".

After nine months of work and some 150,000 cigarette filters glued to each other, the artist has reinterpreted the five perfect geometric figures, the result of mathematical studies begun with Plato and which then extended to the philosophical, aesthetic, and symbolic fields from the Renaissance until today.

The universe created here is a cosmic-temporal vision through which Filomeni wishes to reflect his interpretation of the world. Perfection and imperfection, singleness and plurality all together in the cycle of the time of life; concatenations of atoms in movement among themselves in an invisible and inseparable vortex.

Given the enormous amount of work involved, the artist made use of polystyrene to make the core of the sculptures. The latter, covered with unsmoked cigarette filters, are a personal vision of ancestral sculptures known by everybody.

The exhibition has a bilingual catalogue, in a limited edition, curated by Nicola Gnesi and with an essay by Matteo Galbiati.
